Come Fly With Us!

BRITISH COLUMBIA KITEFLIERS ASSOCIATION

Founded in 1980, the British Columbia Kitefliers' Association (BCKA) is incorporated under the Society Act of British Columbia as a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting interest and participation in the making and flying of kites.

BCKA members believe that kiting is for everyone: all ages and all levels of kite expertise are welcome. Members get together for fun flies and workshops and take part in kite festivals in BC and across Canada, the neighbouring states of the US and sometimes in other parts of the world. These events offer opportunities to make new friends around a shared interest and to see intriguing and varied kite creations.

In addition, in the spring and summer months, we actively conduct kite-making workshops in schools and community centres to teach children (and their parents) the sheer joy of making a kite that will really FLY! Volunteering at one of these events is an awesome experience.

Membership Benefits:

- Be a member of a great group of like-minded kite flyers!
- Take part in festivals, workshops and other kite related events

BCKA patches, pins and bumper stickers may be purchased for $5 each.
